brial of one of the parties indicted for rescuing the ngitive slave Shadrach, will be probably brought to a close to-day. The evidence has been so clear, that we should think there can be no doubt of what the result will be. Nothing but the conviction of the parties who were engaged in that atrocious outmge, provided the evidence will justify it, will wipe out the disgrace which it inflicted on Boston. It is reported that the Indians in Yucatan have been recently defeated by the whites, and that hos-

We regret to hear that the cholera has broken out on the lower Mississippi, and that on board one steamer twenty-four deaths occurred recently. Would it not be prudent in our city authorities, now that the warm weather has set in, to adopt some measures to purify the city, so as to keep that dreadful disease at bay ! the old continent and England, we have files of foreign journals, with dates four days later than those recently received. The American steamship Pacific arrived at Liverpool on the twentieth of last month, having made the shortest outward passage from New York yet on record. This new triumph of our steam marine is one in which every citizen naturally will indulge the utmost pride. At Liverpool, the cotton market had recovered from its recent depression, and sales were brisk. Business generally in the English provinces had been depressed, from the effect of the cotton crisis. The Lendon Exhibition continues to be as attractive as ever, and the receipts show that the public interest though they are more fully developed. Our selections from the foreign journals supply a variety of information on the most interesting topics. France the purposes of Louis Napoleon are more strongly avowed, and his desires are very openly arged. On the one hand, the legitimists oppose the prolongation of his Presidential powers, while his own friends and supporters make the most clamorous outcries in support of the plan. All this, however, appears to be of little consequence, as there are many barriers to the overthrow of the constitution at the will of Louis. The Chinese empire, as is ascertained by the overland mail from India, is still the scene of insurrections; and at Manilla disturbances have resulted in the capture of the forts at Sooloo, by the Governor-General. This will be the subject of an investigation at an early day in England, and we presume that further accounts will prove that these transactions have been of the same character as those hitherto known in the Chinese scenes, and at the Cape of Good evening from Chagres-through the attentions of the purser, Mr. J. J. Thompson, and of Dr. John features of the intelligence brought by her. The North America has brought eight hundred thousand dollars in gold dust and coin. The information from the mining regions is highly cheering-in fact, the diggers appear to be doing better than ever before. There are points, also, of considerable interest in the news from Pa nama and Chagres. These will be perceived by a reference to another column, but we cannot omit to notice the intimation conveyed with respect to the influences at work to restrain Americans from landing at Tehuantepec. If it is, as we now suspect, that there has been a direct interference on the part of rivals to the Tehnantepec railroad to in berpose obstacles to the assumed advantages of that route, such conduct cannot be concealed, and must eventually fall far short of its purpose. The enterprise of our people will not be circumscribed by any men, let them be engaged in speculations, however extensive or praiseworthy. The shortest and safest route to California, be it what it may, eannot be blocked up to suit the caprices or the selfish motives of any party. The probability is, that this attempt to interfere with the natural tendencies of our traffic with California, will direct atention very closely to the Tehuantepec route. We must, however, confess our surprise that the Mexicans should desire to shut their gates to a passage, which we recently learned it was their intention to open, with great advantages for the transportation of merchandise and passengers. This subject is becoming interesting.

First In portant Free Soil Movement in NEWS BY TELEGRAPH. | mentioned. It merely states that Singer stabbed a man Vermont-John Van Buren in the Field-Looking to the Presidency.

We devote a portion of our space, to-day, to the recent proceedings of a Free Soil or Democratic Auti-Slavery Convention in the State of Vermont, and to a speech delivered by John Van Buren to the free soilers of that State, both of which we have extracted from the columns of the anti-slavery organ in this city, the Evening Post. They will be read with interest at this time, as we are on the eve of a Presidential canvass, which promises to be one o the most interesting and exciting that has ever taken place in this country. Movements looking to the next Presidency have already been made in different States of the Union, and the Vermont Free Soil Convention, to which we refer, is a continuation of them, and, we believe, the first on the

The free soilers of Vermont, who are represented in this convention, were originally connected with the regular democratic party, as was the case in the State of New York. They separated from the old hunkers or compromise democrats, for the same reason that the fice soilers of New York cut them selves clear of their old associates, who still belong to the great democratic party throughout the country. The whigs of Vermont, as a general thing, advocate the same ultra free soil principles as the free soilers themselves do. In this respect, there is no difference between the free soil whigs and the free soil democrats, and the sentiments of both are pretty well represented in John Van Buren's speech. The scion of the sire of Kinderhook, however, displays a want of correct information concerning the course of Congressional legislation in times past, which we would not have expected in one who has had such facilities as he has had for arriving at the truth. On another occasion, we may show him his sad and melancholy ignorance of cotemporaneous history.

But in respect to the view entertained by the free soilers of Vermont, and the position assumed by John Van Buren in his speech in that State, at the free soil convention, they are identically the same as those of the free soil whigs of Vermont, and of the ultra whigs of the North and New England generally. They are not quite so black, or revolutionary, or blood-thirsty as those of the Lloyd Garrisons and Wendel Phillips, or Pillsbury Parkers and Parker Pilisburys, of Boston, who celebrated their anniversary a short time since at Syracuse, in this State; but their inevitable tendency is the same, and they would undoubtedly lead to the same result, and produce the same consequences, if they were carried into practical operation. There is very little more than a shade of difference be tween them. The one set directly assail the constitution and trample it under foot; the other endeavor to undermine it in a sneaking and dastardly manner. Both are laboring, each in its peculiar way, to disorganize the country, dissolve the Union, and both contemplate the same state of things in the Southern States as was witnessed in St. Domingo, when the soil of that island was reddened by white men's blood. This is one of the terrible catastrophes to which this free soil and anti-slavery agitation tends, no matter under what guise may be conducted. If not checked and subdued, it will lead to civil war, dissolution of the Union, smoking plantations, and blood! blood! blood! From the hints and innuendoes thrown out by John Van Euren in his speech, the free soil convention in Vermont appears to be only a preliminary step towards concentrating the whole free soil foreof the Northern and New England States, for the purpose of operating on the next Presidential election, probably on the old Buffalo platform. It is very likely that free soil delegates, claiming to be the delegates of the regular democratic party, will demand admission into the Baltimore Convention, as they did in 1848-that they will be denied admission, and that they will then repair to Buffalo, as they did in 1848, and there construct another Buffalo platform, and nominate a separate candidate, with the view of defeating the election of the nominee of the Baltimore Convention, as they defeated Gen. Cass. Indeed, the whole tenor of John Van Buren's speech, and some of the sentiments which he avowed in it, and the predictions which are half revealed in it, indicate that the free soilers of Vermont and the North are preparing for such a convention, for the construction of another Buffalo platform, and for the nomination of a separate candidate for the Presidency. And if we may judge from the movements going on around usfrom the election of Mr Rantoul to the House of Representatives at Washington, from Massachusetts; the election of an anti-slavery Governor in that State: and the return of Mr. Sumner, another anti-slavery politician, to the United States Senate candidate for the Presidency, at the next election, will get more votes in New England than Mr. Van Buren did in 1848. The result, in all probability, will be, that the election of the next President of the United States will devolve upon the House of Representatives at Washington-that body being obliged, acording to law, to select one from the three candidates having the largest number of

THE CARDET AND THE MEXICAN CLAIMS .- WILL these funny developements never have an end ! Will the amusing mystery never be fully solved? Mr. Webster said. In this connection, a short time rince, that he thought it quite as much within his province as Senator to prosecute suits in course commissioned by Congress as in the Sourcess Court.

The averds of the commissioners are highly spoken of as just and impartial. Disappointed claimants, only, find fault. Lawyers here are laughing at the idea of Congress investigating and revising the proceedings of a court of final awards. The proposal to investigate the accounts of courses with their clients is skill more amusing in its verdancy.

Why don't you publish the papers, if you see them One says that Mr. George Law only claims $100; another intimates that he has lost, already, $30,000, besides $60,000 more which Mr. Corwin won't pay back. What are the naked facts in all these statements? Publish the papers. Some politicians think that millionaires are always fair game, and that the less Mr. Law speaks of his losses in politics, the better for his profits in steamers. The real truth is, that all have made money, except the first digger, out of the facts for the Republic and other papers, whose bill of $15,000 and 10 cents is not

The testimony in the Fugitive Slave rescue case closed to-day, and at a little past twelve o'clock the Hon. John P. Hald commenced the closing argument for the defeace. He assumed, first, that the government was bound to prove the allegation that Shadrach was bons fide a slave under the laws of Virginia, at the time of the rescue; secondly, that he escaped from Virginia into Massachusetts and was legally under arrest here. He alluded to the feeling and law in Virginia in regard to slavery, and paid her a compliment for her liberality in all cases where slaves were contending for their rights; and he only wished for Scott (the prisoner.) that he might have as fair and impartial a trial here as he would have in Old Virginia. Many points of the Fugitive Slave law Mr. Halle alleged to be unconstitutional, but in the present case he would contine himself to the defence under the law as it was. He then presceded to take up the several counts in the indictment; and argued them separately, as sustained by the law and evidence. Before he concluded, the court adjourned.

At the dinner of the Arcient and Honorable Artillery Company, in Fanenil Hall, this afternoon, speeches were made by General Wool, General Caleb Cushing, Colonel Isaac Wright, and others. At the election of officers, Gen. Cushing was chosen commander of the company.

The Hoboken Riots. PURTHER EXAMINATION AND LIBERATION OF PRISON-

Yesterday afternoon, at 4 P. M., Justice Kidney open ed his court for the further examination of I Schnades, Francis Kaelmer, and Casper, Singer, the three remaining prisoners in custody in connection with the Hebeken riot.

The case of Casper Singer was the first taken up, and Mr. Chedrey, senior counsel for the committee of th German association, argued against the propriety of reesisting the testimony of Patrick Stauley as sufficient to justify the further incarceration of his elient.

usify the further incarceration of his chem.

Frederick Weiss then made the following affidavit:—

'On Thursday, the 29th of May, I was at the Bergen court; I was called upon by Patrick Stanley, who said he was the person that exerce against Capper Singer; and that he was the person who identified Singer as the man that struck Martin Bridges on the neck with a knife.

Patrick Stanley proposed to keep out of the way when Singer's trial came on provided I would give him some action. I then refused to hold any further communication.

In Stanley's affidavit the pages of Martin Bridges is not mentioned. It merely states that Singer stabbed a min in the neck.

After some arguments on the part of counsel for the defence, to show the want of responsibility in Stanley, the accuser of Singer, Justice Kidney states that there were two charges against the prisoner, one for having been a rioter at McCarty's, on the affidavit of Sarah McCarty, and the other for stabbing, on affidavit of Sarah McCarty, and the other for stabbing, on affidavit of Patrick Stanley. The counsel contended that the character of the principal accuser. Stanley, should be taken into consideration as well as the testimony—that others could be produced to show that he wanted to be bought over from appearing on the trial as evidence; but the Justice overruled.

Henry Schnades and Francis Kaelmer were then called out to answer to the charge of having taken part in the Hoboken riot. Sarah McCarty was called upon to identify Francis Kaelmer. She testified as follows.—I do not recognize the prisoner, Francis Kaelmer, as having been among those who made the attack on McCarty's house, on Monday the 25th of May; the man whom I saw in jail, and whom I recognized as one of the rioters, was fatter in the fage than the person whom I now see; I do not believe it is the same man.

The prisoner was then fully discharged, and his bail relieved from further responsibility. Sarah McCarty's former affidavit, now in the hands of Justice Kidney, was, that she had seen Casper Singer and Francis Candler engaged in the riot, and that she had recognized them in the Bergen jail.

Henry Schnades was next called up, and Michael McCarty sworn, who testified as follows:— To the best of my knowledge I saw this man (Schnades) at the rear part of the terman crowd, when the attack was being made on my house; he had no club in his hand; I cannot say whether he was endeavoring to pacify them; I saw several Germans in the crowd trying to lead the rioters of their party, away, and to prevent their injuring my premises; I cannot recognise Schnades as a participator in the ri

MONEY MARKET. Monnay, June 2-6 P. M.

There was not so much activity in the stock market today, but prices were firmly sustained. Reading Railroad appears to be the favorite among speculators. Harlem is not pressing upon the market, and helders appear to have no disposition to sell at present prices. Long Island is stendily working up. It has its re-actions, but the im provement is going on gradually. Canton Company is not in demand, but the market value is increasing, and it is possible considerable speculation may take piac upon the publication of the next annual report. Morris closed firm, at a slight advance. Eric Railroad is weak and fluctuating. A few months will settle all the doubts relative to the ability of this company to pay, out of its net earnings, the interest on all its indebtedness and a dividend on its stock. The market closed with an upward tendency. At the annual election held at the banking-house of the North River Bank, this afternoon, the following gentlemen were chosen Directors for the ensuing year, via Moses Taylor, August Belmont, M. O. Roberts, Henry Suydam, Jr., Cornelius V. B. Ostrander, Jesse Hoyt, firm of J. M. Hoyt & Sons, John D. Johnson, Charles A Heckscher, George Treadwell, Matthew Armstrong, Jas S. Theyer, B. C. Webster, Charles J. Richards.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held soon after, Marshall O. Roberts, Esq., was unanimously elected President. This is a very strong and wealthy list of officers. The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasures ducts were by no means baoyant. There had been no change in the money markets, in the rates of interest, or any very important movement in the precious metals. The Delaware and Hudson Canal Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of five per cent. The United States Treasurer's statement exhibits funds subject to draft amounting to $14,259,274, of which a little over $1,300,000 are deposited in Philadelphia, and over $2,000,000 in New York. The annexed statement exhibits the value of merchandiseexported from this port for the month of May, dis tinguishing the amount of shipments to each country

It will be seen that the shipments of specie have been nearly equal to the shipments of merchandise, and that the aggregate is very large. The import returns for the month have not been made up yet, but the aggregate will not much exceed the exports. The value of foreign dry goods entered at this port for consumption, and with drawn from warehouse for the month of May, was $2,371.481, against $2,766,904 for the corresponding month last year. This shows a falling off of nearly four hundred thousand dollars in this item. The aggregate will not vary much from that for the month of May, 1850. appears, by the above table of exports that there has been a better distribution of shipments than usual, and it is with pleasure we notice that our export trade with the different countries of Central and South America is

The movements of gold and silver are exciting a good deal of interest, but no apprehension or anxiety is exhibited in our financial circles, at the mouthly reports of shipments from this port. The exportation has been large, but the receipts have been nearly to a corresponding extent. The shipments of gold dust from San Francisco, in each of the first three months of the past two steadily increasing.

GOLD DUST EXPORTED FROM SAN FACTOR | 1850. 1850. 1851. Hec. 1851. January 4448,444 53,100,486 $2,652,042 | 134,551. 2271,600 1,512,249 | 2,857,456 1,609,456 Total.....$2.432,795 8,237,542 5.804.747

This is a most extraordinary exhibit, but as it is official. and taken from the Custom House books of San Fraucisco, it must be correct. At this rate, the shipments of gold dust from San Francisco, for 1851, will be nearly four times those of 1850. It will be seen that the total exportation in the first three months of 1850 was but little more than for the smallest month in 1851. The export for April we shall probably receive by the steamer of the 1st of May, now nearly due. The San Francisco Herald says, that in addition to the shipments of gold dust, reported at the Custom House during the first quarter of 1851, the amount carried out by passengers, in the same time, was $2,451,600. It also says that there must be taken into account. in making up the estimate of productions, the bullion stamped by the United States assay office and by private establishments, and gold manufac-tured into jeweiry, $1,517,000; gold carried overland and coastwise, by miners, on their return to Mexico, Chili Osegon, &c., $1,000,000; shipped by merchants, of which there is no manifest, $450,000; in the possession of miners, merchants, &c., over and above the amount estimated in December last, $1,600,000. The total of all these amounts is $14,656,142, if we compute the value per ounce Troy at $16, but if we add $1 per ounce, we will have the present California value, and will thus have $916,009 additional, which would make the total value $15,572,151; add 60 cents per ounce, and we get the mint value, which would add $458,000 more, making the total $16 030,155 If this is to be taken as a standard in estimating the product of gold in Celifornia for the present year, we arrive at the aggregate of full sixty-five millions of dollars for 1851. This is, without doubt, a fair calculation or at least a moderate estimate, as it is well known that the product of gold during the first quarter of each year, has been less than in either of the other three. It may well be said that the gold mines of
